

SUMMER 2021 FINANCIAL AID

Attending summer at ASU Three Rivers is a great way to make up credits, replace classes you may have dropped, or just get ahead in your course work! Financial aid can help offset the costs of taking classes during the summer months so you can work hard and worry less.

Because the summer semester at ASU Three Rivers is considered the last term of the academic year, your eligibility will be based off of your 2020-2021 FAFSA application, and your aid options will typically consist of any aid you did not use during the academic year, with this exception:

Pell Grant eligible students can receive up to 150% of their scheduled Pell award each year. What does this mean for you? If you are a Pell eligible student, you may qualify for a Pell Grant for Summer 2021 even if you used your full-time Pell award during the Fall 2020 and Spring 2021 semesters!

Eligibility

- Completed a 2020-2021 FAFSA
- Be Pell Grant eligible
- In most cases, there is a requirement to enroll at least half-time (6+ credits)
- Be meeting Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)
- Have lifetime Pell Grant eligibility remaining

Lifetime Eligibility Usage

- You can check your remaining Pell eligibility level on-line by logging on to NSLDS using your FSA ID. View your Lifetime Eligibility Usage (LEU) on the Financial Aid Review page.
- The maximum time-frame that students may receive Federal Pell Grant is the equivalent of twelve full-time semesters.

Minimum Credits for Summer Pell Grant

- If you enrolled full-time (12+ credits) and received the full-time Pell Grant amount for Fall 2020 and Spring 2021, you must enroll at least half-time (6+ credits) in summer classes to receive a summer Pell Grant.
- If you enrolled part-time Fall 2020 or Spring 2021, you are eligible to use the remainder of your annual Pell Grant amount during Summer 2021 with no minimum credit requirement.

Dropping, Withdrawing or Failing Classes

- It is possible that you could owe money back for all or part of your Federal Pell Grant if you do not complete classes that you registered for in the summer.
- The amount you may owe will be calculated based on the drop date, the number of credits and the last day that you attended classes.

Important Facts

- Pell Grant alone may not be enough to cover the full cost of attending classes in the summer.
- Many students use their full loan eligibility over the fall and spring semesters, leaving nothing available for summer. If possible, students should reserve some of their annual federal loan eligibility for the summer. Please note loans have two disbursement dates per loan period.
- If you enroll in more than one term per semester, your Pell award may be split into multiple disbursements.

The ASU Three Rivers Financial Aid Office hopes this helps if you decide to attend during the summer semester. If you have any questions, please stop by or email us at financialaid@asutr.edu.
